

FEEL IT workshop

This is our most popular workshop. It is perfect for parents, family members, teaching professionals, therapists, support staff and students looking to understand more about Sensory Processing Disorder (SPD). This workshop suits people who are new to sensory processing as well as those who have attended many workshops before.

You can attend this workshop at one of our open workshop dates throughout the UK. Alternatively it can also be run as an in-house workshop for teams and groups as a full or half day session.

About

This workshop will give you the confidence to understand how SPD can impact individual lives and the terminology in order to be able to communicate confidently about a student, child or adults needs.

"Impactful, practical and full of vital information that every teacher should have in their toolkit."

Special Needs Teacher

Follow Us

www.sensoryspectacle.co.uk
Sensory Spectacle educate about & create awareness of Sensory Processing Disorder internationally using immersive learning for parents, professionals & students.

Regularly attending this workshop are parents, teaching staff from special and mainstream settings as well as social workers and therapists.

What you will learn

- * why our senses are important to our learning & development
- * what sensory integration is
- * what a Sensory Processing Disorder is
- * how to identify characteristics of SPD (misunderstood behaviours)
- * how it might feel with our immersive learning tools
- * how to support sensory development for children & adults

www.sensoryspectacle.co.uk

Sensory Spectacle educate about & create awareness of Sensory Processing Disorder internationally using immersive learning for parents, professionals & students.

Follow Us

*workshops *online training *books *webinars *keynote speaker *experiences